

63-9191

12 December 1963

The Honorable Clark Clifford
Chairman, President's Foreign Intelligence
Advisory Board

Dear Clark:

I very much enjoyed our visit last night and I hope that in the future trying months we will have opportunities for personal discussions on matters of mutual interest.

I hope you will not consider it presumptuous on my part to call to your attention the fact that Dr. Jerome Wiesner is resigning from his position as Scientific Adviser to the President and returning to MIT. Wiesner is both familiar with and exceedingly competent in scientific and technical matters of interest to you and to me, and since you have a vacancy on your Board, it might be worthwhile considering him as a candidate.

With warm regards,

/s/ John
